

Submission Regulations Journal of Agriculture and Life Science of Gyeongsang Nat'l. Univ.

Established in JAN. 2nd 2002
Amended in APR. 4th 2003
Amended in JUL. 23rd 2007
Amended in FEB. 4th 2009
Amended in MAR. 11th 2010
Amended in MAR. 15th 2011
Amended in MAR. 13th 2012
Amended in JAN. 22th 2015

1. The Journal of Agriculture & Life Science is classified into Original papers, Research notes, Review papers, Invited papers and etc. Submitted papers shall contribute to the development of agriculture, forestry and fishery, obeyed by the regulation of research ethics enacted by the Institute of Agriculture & Life Science affiliated by Gyeongsang Nat'l Univ. in Jul. 23rd 2007 and be qualified for creativity, clarity and validity.
2. The editorial boards decide the publication of the submitted papers, and the papers are not returned.
3. Papers which don't follow the submission regulation or contain pictures or figures unsuitable for examination, editing and printing are not accepted.
4. The date of receipt is the date of arrival, and the date of acceptance is the date when the examination is completed.
5. Two copies of the paper shall be submitted, and the diskette of the paper shall be enclosed when the final revised copy is submitted. For the online submission, the paper shall be typed in Korean or English by the word processing program Hangul over version 97 with type A4, line spacing 180 and font size 11. Margins (top · bottom 15, left · right 25 and header · footer 10) and font size (16 for Korean · English title on the first page, 14 for subtitle in the middle of the body and 11 for the rest) shall be followed for the editing.
6. Korean manuscript shall be written by Korean alphabet, but Chinese characters can be used for the name of person, place and journal which are confusable.
7. Title, name of the author, the author's workplace name and address is written on the top of the first page of the paper. The symbol "*" shall be placed after the name of corresponding author, and the number shall be placed after the name of other authors in numerical order. On the bottom, name of the author, address and email are written. Korean address goes first for the Korean manuscript and English address goes first for the English manuscript with each other's translation in the brackets. Korean · English abstract which contains about 200 characters is summarized by a sentence and is attached on the second page. Key words within five words are written after a spacing line from the last line of the abstract. Key words are with five words which don't appear in the title and are written in Korean alphabetic order or English alphabetic order.

8. The body shall consist of Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results and Discussion, Acknowledgement and Literature Cited in order.
9. Research note shall be written according to the form of original papers.
10. Table and figure shall be drawn in English, be comprehensible without referring to the text and be attached at the end of Literature Cited being written in the accompanying paper. Footnote is written in lower case in alphabetic order. Table and figure shall be drawn and attached one by one on each page within 14cm in width in black clearly including letters, and the number of the figure shall be stipulated at the bottom (Ex: Fig.1). The explanation shall not be included inside the figure, and the same research result shall not be written with table and figure again without particular reason.
11. Parts which need printing in italic and gothic font shall be underlined with solid line and broken line respectively or with the fonts.
12. In case of the abbreviations, the full name shall be written at the beginning and the abbreviation shall be put in brackets and be explained at the Abbreviations.
 - 1) For the Korean manuscript, the brackets shall be put without spacing before the word, and for the English manuscript, the brackets shall be put with spacing before the word.
 - 2) Numbers and units are written leaving space (Except % and °C).
 - 3) Numbers and units in brackets are written without spacing for both Korean and English papers.
13. Numbers are written by Arabic figures and units are written by SI unit as much as possible.
14. For cited literatures, follow the formations below.
 - 1) Kim(2001) or (Kim, 2001) for one author.
 - 2) Kim & Park (2001) or (Kim & Park, 2001) for two authors.
 - 3) Kim et al. (2001) or (Kim et al., 2001) for more than three authors.
 - 4) For various cited literatures, the earliest-published literature comes first, and each author is divided with semicolon (Ex, Choi, 1999; Kim & Park, 2001).
15. Literature Cited are arranged in alphabetical order and written as below.
 - 1) For periodicals; when written in English, author's surname comes first and given name comes after as below.

Finney, P. L., M. W. Pariza, and I. Andrew. 1999. Analysis of starch in rice. Cereal Chem. 63: 18-22.
 - 2) For book forms
Kulp, K. 1999. Chemistry and Technology. In Wheat. Pomeranz, Y. and M. W. Pariza. pp. 100-152. eds. AACC Inc., MN, USA.
 - 3) For reports, bulletin, theses and etc.
 - ① Adams, C. Z. and I. G. Brakestone. 1999. Structural analysis of natural herbicide. Bull. 1648, Geneva Agr. Exp. Stn., Geneva, NY.
 - ② Ha, Y. J. 1999. The Analysis of amylase gene expression., Ph.D Thesis, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.
 - 4) For patents
Roth, T.L. 1998. The manufacturing process of natural insecticide, U.S. Patent 3, 607.
 - 5) Inedita, personal communications and etc. are not defined as literature cited, but disclosed in the middle of texts.
 - 6) The name of academic journal is stipulated in all if it consists of singular words. If it consists of multiple words, it is stipulated as abbreviations excluding if, and, the and etc.

16. The proofreading shall be done by the author for the first proof-reading, and in principle the manuscript cannot be edited in during the proofreading. The boards, however, can edit it in when it is acknowledged to need the systematic editing.
17. The boards charge authors the fees for examination and publication.
 - 1) The author pays 60,000 KRW for the examination fee when submitting.
 - 2) The boards charge the author 40,000 KRW for the publication fee when the submitted paper is confirmed for the publication, and the standing page for sciences and humanities is six and ten respectively. 20,000 KRW is charged more for additional pages, and additional costs for color printing and etc. are charged on the author.
 - 3) An offprint is provided. If the author requires an offprint of the basic 30 copies, the author pays for the cost.
18. The boards decide the publication and the inserting order.
19. All others not stipulated in the regulations are decided by the board.